Sybit and your week is purple!

At Sybit, there is no gray everyday life, no gobbledygook that promises you the moon. Our passion is customer experience. Based on SAP Customer Experience Solutions, we create digital worlds of experience that people talk about and that inspire our customers. We love challenging projects. Is that what you want too? No buzzword bingo, but technically challenging and always with the pulse of the times. We are curious about you! Come and join our team!

Architect/Consultant SAP CX Integration (all genders)

Site: Radolfzell / Offenbach / Hannover / Bielefeld / homeoffice (Germany)

Your tasks

- You are the contact person in the project when it comes to integration technologies and cross-system processes.
- You design and implement CX scenarios and architectures in the area of application and cloud integration based on the latest SAP technologies. Your focus is on end-2-end processes in the CX environment.
- With your expertise, you support the customer in all project phases and, in addition to the implementation, also take over the mappings and customising.
- Together with the team, you accompany the customer project from conception to go-live, while conducting training and customer workshops.

Your talent

- You have initial experience or even in-depth knowledge of CRM processes in SAP C/4HANA (C4C, CRM) and have know-how of SAP ERP or other interface technologies.
 - Ideally, you are familiar with SAP middleware technologies (CPI/HCI, PI/PO)
 - You have good to very good technical and analytical understanding
 - You are confident, convincing and have good communication skills - in both German and English
- You work independently as part of an agile team and also like to be on site with your customers from time to time
